

Matthew's Portfolio

Matthew will have a portfolio of information about himself that he can give to companies that he is looking to work for. This portfolio will contain his resume, contact information, and a general biography that lets you know who Matthew is.

This portfolio will consist of three pages that will all have different information regarding Matthew. There will be a homepage with an index that has links to his resume and biography. The homepage will also have a picture of him and contact information. The resume page will have a list of his job experience and contacts. The about page will have a bibliography about Matthew. There will be three sections for career, family, and religion. This will be useful to have to give to employers when applying for a job. This is all the necessary information that you would give so this makes it convenient for both employee and employer.
